自己紹介/Self-introduction

My name is Hiep. I am from Vietnam. Now I am studying master's degree (M1) at Kobe University, with the major in labor law.

研究分野について/About study field

The reason I have interest in labor law is that my country's state form is based on a socialism system which values the working class (employees) in society.

Persons with disabilities are one of the vulnerable groups not only in Vietnam but also all over the world.

There are so many persons with disabilities in Vietnam, and most of them were not employed in companies or public offices. So I conduct this research so as to support them to integrate into society and contribute to social development by using their abilities.
